Charterhouse Square School is an independent, non-selective, co-educational day school, situated in the Barbican area of the City of London.

It occupies a five-story Victorian building near what used to be a Carthusian monastery.

The 2016 Ofsted inspection rated Charterhouse's curriculum and teaching as "outstanding". Many former pupils go on to leading independent schools in London including City of London School for Girls, City of London School, Forest School and Highgate School.

At Charterhouse Square we pride ourselves on the happiness of our pupils and the quality of our academic results. Our teachers and support staff all support our ethos and are committed to creating the perfect environment for children to thrive; both academically and socially. We can be confident in saying that all Charterhouse pupils are given the perfect platform to achieve their maximum potential.
