Kensington Park School is a new co-educational independent school in central London with boarding facilities.

We firmly believe we offer something different and exciting to discerning young learners and their parents.

Whilst many of our teachers have taught at some of the oldest schools in the country, our outlook is modern and dynamic. We have put together a 21st century curriculum to meet the needs of our students as they grow and develop, and as they prepare themselves for the fast-paced and ever-changing world around us.
