Roedean is a school where students have the chance to grow up at their own pace, in beautiful surroundings and let their talents and imagination run free.

Few schools in the country enjoy such an inspirational location so close to the sea and a national park. The girls perform exceptionally well academically, with every girl achieving their best. Their successes are a result of their curiosity and intellectual engagement, as well as their developing self-confidence and maturity. Making learning exciting and memorable lies at the heart of a Roedean education. Pupils enjoy a holistic education and are inspired as much by the world outside the classroom as the world within it. At Roedean, every aspect of school life complements the others, and it is precisely this rounded education which produces independent and creative young women who will make their mark in the world.
